

Be Young Looking Darken Gray Hair

PNEUMONIA DEATH RATE
INCREASED THIS YEAR
SA Henry Street Settlement Reports
on Its Work Among Poor Side Post.

The Henry Street Settlement has just issued a report for the first half of this year on the health conditions found by its visiting nurses who made 127,000 visits to 18,000 patients in Manhattan and the Bronx.

A total of 1,012 cases of pneumonia, the most prevalent disease, were treated. Deaths were 541. Of 2,898 patients in the first six months last year 123 died.

Hospital treatment was given this year in 346 dispensary cases; 82 typhoid fever cases and 60 cases of disorders of the digestive system.

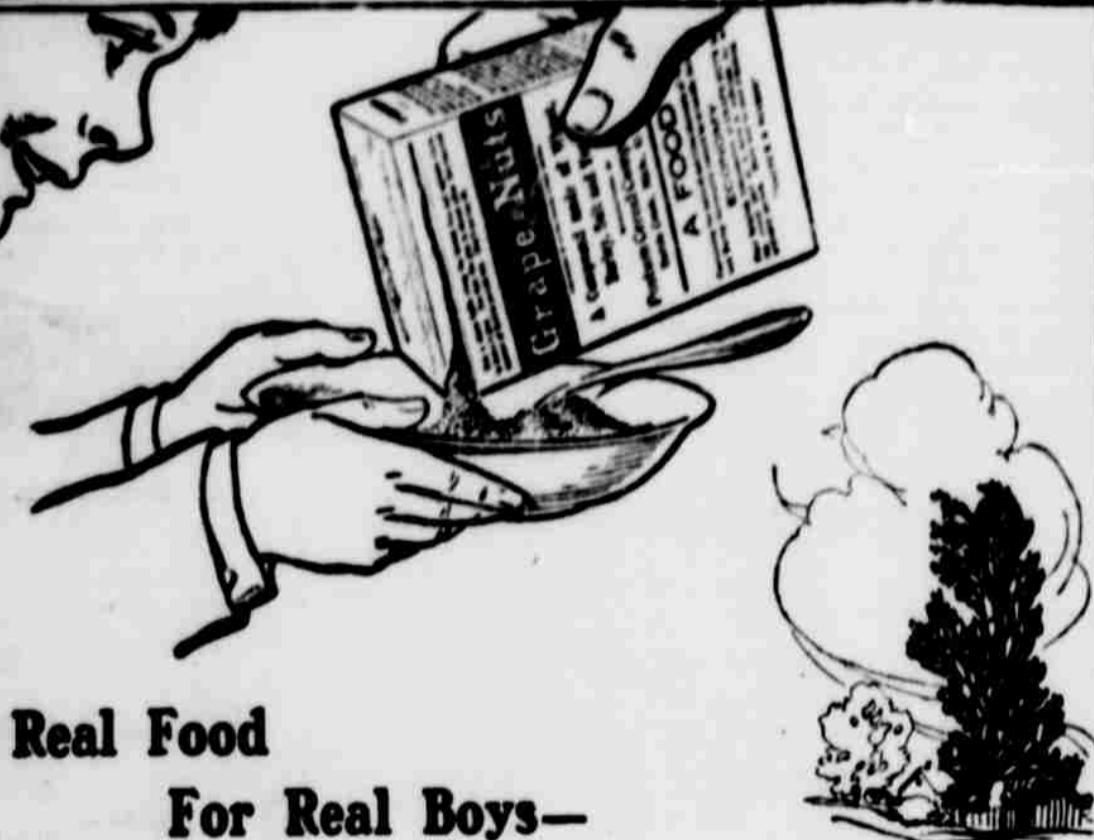

In the second period of 1918 nurses treated 148 dispensary cases, 42 typhoid cases and 65 digestive disorder cases.

Miss Potts' Visit Off Road.

When Miss Potts left from the roof of the house at 700 80th Avenue last night, Winifred Meadley, aged eight, went too close to the edge of the roof. A sudden gust of wind lifted off the roof. She fell fifty feet and struck her head and was killed.

Real Food For Real Boys—

must taste good—and, more important, contain true nourishment for their growing bodies and rapidly developing brains.

Grape-Nuts FOOD

is crisp granules of whole wheat and malted barley—well balanced in nourishment, easy to digest and delicious—a wonderful energizer for boys and girls and grown-ups.

"There's a Reason"

Grocers everywhere sell Grape-Nuts.

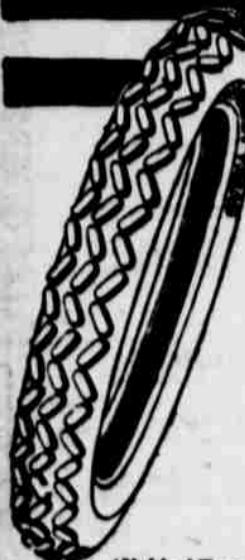

AUTOMOBILES.

AUTOMOBILES.

AUTOMOBILES.

United States balanced Tires

This week End
use United States
Tires

They have that dependability—that sureness—that staunchness—which makes it possible for you to forget entirely that your automobile has tires.

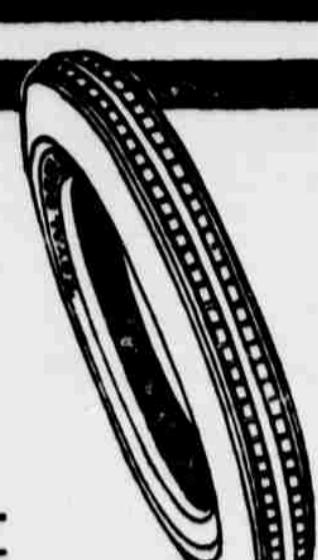

There are five United States "Balanced" Tires which meet every motoring condition of price and use.

Ask the nearest United States Tire Dealer for your copy of the booklet, "Judging Tires," which tells how to secure the exact tire to suit your needs.

United States Tire Company

"Nobby" "Chain" "Uses"
"Royal Cord" "Plain"
"INDIVIDUALIZED TIRES"

Made by the Largest Rubber Company in the World

N. Y. BANKS' LOSS MAY BE $340,000 IN ORANGE FAILURE

No Money Collected on Bogus Certificates Placed With Concerns Here.

Investigators for the New Jersey State Banking and Insurance Department, in checking up the affairs of the Mutual Trust Company of Orange, have found that the bank has not paid out a cent on the $34,000 worth of certificates of deposit which were disposed of to certain New York banks, and which Edwin H. Hatch, Treasurer of N. W. Halsey & Co., dealers in investment securities, No. 49 Wall Street, Manhattan, is accused of having procured by over-certifying a $34,000 deposit in the trust company. The Mutual Trust Company was closed on Monday before the New York banks could collect anything on the certificates, and it now appears that these New York banks may be the losers in the suit and protect the depositors.

Hatch, who is recovering from an operation for appendicitis, is at his home at Maplewood under guard of a detective. He is under arrest, charged with conspiring with Thomas M. Byrne, Secretary-Treasurer of the Mutual Trust Company, in the over-certifying of the $34,000 deposit.

No one is allowed to see Hatch. The doctor appointed by the Banking Department to examine him reported that the man was too ill to be placed on trial for at least ten days. Hatch has assumed the blame for Byrne's part in the transaction.

Charles R. Wilmet, President of the Mutual Trust Company, is generally believed in Orange to have been entirely innocent of any knowledge of the over-certification. The papers involved did not require his signature and could have been put through without his knowledge. His attorney, Thomas A. Davis, promised to give out a statement this afternoon.

Byrne, who has been held in $25,000 bail, says he issued the certificates at Hatch's solicitation.

Examiners who have been investigating the Trust Company's books since Monday, when Commissioner of Banking and Insurance, George M. Le Monte took charge, expect to finish their work this week. In the mean time 2,800 depositors are on the anxious seat. It is said that so far nothing wrong with the affairs of the company has been discovered.

Byrne's story of Hatch's visit to him and the plea that the transaction would save the bank was detailed. Hatch said he was short of funds because he was carrying large amounts of former United States Senator Smith's paper.

Friends of Hatch, regardless of the criminal prosecution which has been instituted, declare that he will make every effort to guard the trust company against financial loss. Even if he should fail to do so, it was added, the depositors need suffer a loss of no greater than 15 per cent. on their deposits, although the stockholders in the company had been

charged with conspiring with

Thomas M. Byrne, Secretary-Treasurer of the Mutual Trust Company, in the over-certifying of the $34,000 deposit.

No one is allowed to see Hatch. The doctor appointed by the Banking Department to examine him reported that the man was too ill to be placed on trial for at least ten days. Hatch has assumed the blame for Byrne's part in the transaction.

Charles R. Wilmet, President of the Mutual Trust Company, is generally believed in Orange to have been entirely innocent of any knowledge of the over-certification. The papers involved did not require his signature and could have been put through without his knowledge. His attorney, Thomas A. Davis, promised to give out a statement this afternoon.

Byrne, who has been held in $25,000 bail, says he issued the certificates at Hatch's solicitation.

Examiners who have been investigating the Trust Company's books since Monday, when Commissioner of Banking and Insurance, George M. Le Monte took charge, expect to finish their work this week. In the mean time 2,800 depositors are on the anxious seat. It is said that so far nothing wrong with the affairs of the company has been discovered.

Byrne's story of Hatch's visit to him and the plea that the transaction would save the bank was detailed. Hatch said he was short of funds because he was carrying large amounts of former United States Senator Smith's paper.

Friends of Hatch, regardless of the criminal prosecution which has been instituted, declare that he will make every effort to guard the trust company against financial loss. Even if he should fail to do so, it was added, the depositors need suffer a loss of no greater than 15 per cent. on their deposits, although the stockholders in

the company had been

charged with conspiring with

Thomas M. Byrne, Secretary-Treasurer of the Mutual Trust Company, in the over-certifying of the $34,000 deposit.

No one is allowed to see Hatch. The doctor appointed by the Banking Department to examine him reported that the man was too ill to be placed on trial for at least ten days. Hatch has assumed the blame for Byrne's part in the transaction.

Charles R. Wilmet, President of the Mutual Trust Company, is generally believed in Orange to have been entirely innocent of any knowledge of the over-certification. The papers involved did not require his signature and could have been put through without his knowledge. His attorney, Thomas A. Davis, promised to give out a statement this afternoon.

Byrne, who has been held in $25,000 bail, says he issued the certificates at Hatch's solicitation.

Examiners who have been investigating the Trust Company's books since Monday, when Commissioner of Banking and Insurance, George M. Le Monte took charge, expect to finish their work this week. In the mean time 2,800 depositors are on the anxious seat. It is said that so far nothing wrong with the affairs of the company has been discovered.

Byrne's story of Hatch's visit to him and the plea that the transaction would save the bank was detailed. Hatch said he was short of funds because he was carrying large amounts of former United States Senator Smith's paper.

Friends of Hatch, regardless of the criminal prosecution which has been instituted, declare that he will make every effort to guard the trust company against financial loss. Even if he should fail to do so, it was added, the depositors need suffer a loss of no greater than 15 per cent. on their deposits, although the stockholders in

the company had been

charged with conspiring with

Thomas M. Byrne, Secretary-Treasurer of the Mutual Trust Company, in the over-certifying of the $34,000 deposit.

No one is allowed to see Hatch. The doctor appointed by the Banking Department to examine him reported that the man was too ill to be placed on trial for at least ten days. Hatch has assumed the blame for Byrne's part in the transaction.

Charles R. Wilmet, President of the Mutual Trust Company, is generally believed in Orange to have been entirely innocent of any knowledge of the over-certification. The papers involved did not require his signature and could have been put through without his knowledge. His attorney, Thomas A. Davis, promised to give out a statement this afternoon.

Byrne, who has been held in $25,000 bail, says he issued the certificates at Hatch's solicitation.

Examiners who have been investigating the Trust Company's books since Monday, when Commissioner of Banking and Insurance, George M. Le Monte took charge, expect to finish their work this week. In the mean time 2,800 depositors are on the anxious seat. It is said that so far nothing wrong with the affairs of the company has been discovered.

Byrne's story of Hatch's visit to him and the plea that the transaction would save the bank was detailed. Hatch said he was short of funds because he was carrying large amounts of former United States Senator Smith's paper.

Friends of Hatch, regardless of the criminal prosecution which has been instituted, declare that he will make every effort to guard the trust company against financial loss. Even if he should fail to do so, it was added, the depositors need suffer a loss of no greater than 15 per cent. on their deposits, although the stockholders in

the company had been

charged with conspiring with

Thomas M. Byrne, Secretary-Treasurer of the Mutual Trust Company, in the over-certifying of the $34,000 deposit.

No one is allowed to see Hatch. The doctor appointed by the Banking Department to examine him reported that the man was too ill to be placed on trial for at least ten days. Hatch has assumed the blame for Byrne's part in the transaction.

Charles R. Wilmet, President of the Mutual Trust Company, is generally believed in Orange to have been entirely innocent of any knowledge of the over-certification. The papers involved did not require his signature and could have been put through without his knowledge. His attorney, Thomas A. Davis, promised to give out a statement this afternoon.

Byrne, who has been held in $25,000 bail, says he issued the certificates at Hatch's solicitation.

Examiners who have been investigating the Trust Company's books since Monday, when Commissioner of Banking and Insurance, George M. Le Monte took charge, expect to finish their work this week. In the mean time 2,800 depositors are on the anxious seat. It is said that so far nothing wrong with the affairs of the company has been discovered.

Byrne's story of Hatch's visit to him and the plea that the transaction would save the bank was detailed. Hatch said he was short of funds because he was carrying large amounts of former United States Senator Smith's paper.

Friends of Hatch, regardless of the criminal prosecution which has been instituted, declare that he will make every effort to guard the trust company against financial loss. Even if he should fail to do so, it was added, the depositors need suffer a loss of no greater than 15 per cent. on their deposits, although the stockholders in

the company had been

charged with conspiring with

Thomas M. Byrne, Secretary-Treasurer of the Mutual Trust Company, in the over-certifying of the $34,000 deposit.

No one is allowed to see Hatch. The doctor appointed by the Banking Department to examine him reported that the man was too ill to be placed on trial for at least ten days. Hatch has assumed the blame for Byrne's part in the transaction.

Charles R. Wilmet, President of the Mutual Trust Company, is generally believed in Orange to have been entirely innocent of any knowledge of the over-certification. The papers involved did not require his signature and could have been put through without his knowledge. His attorney, Thomas A. Davis, promised to give out a statement this afternoon.

Byrne, who has been held in $25,000 bail, says he issued the certificates at Hatch's solicitation.

Examiners who have been investigating the Trust Company's books since Monday, when Commissioner of Banking and Insurance, George M. Le Monte took charge, expect to finish their work this week. In the mean time 2,800 depositors are on the anxious seat. It is said that so far nothing wrong with the affairs of the company has been discovered.

Byrne's story of Hatch's visit to him and the plea that the transaction would save the bank was detailed. Hatch said he was short of funds because he was carrying large amounts of former United States Senator Smith's paper.

Friends of Hatch, regardless of the criminal prosecution which has been instituted, declare that he will make every effort to guard the trust company against financial loss. Even if he should fail to do so, it was added, the depositors need suffer a loss of no greater than 15 per cent. on their deposits, although the stockholders in

the company had been

charged with conspiring with

Thomas M. Byrne, Secretary-Treasurer of the Mutual Trust Company, in the over-certifying of the $34,000 deposit.

No one is allowed to see Hatch. The doctor appointed by the Banking Department to examine him reported that the man was too ill to be placed on trial for at least ten days. Hatch has assumed the blame for Byrne's part in the transaction.

Charles R. Wilmet, President of the Mutual Trust Company, is generally believed in Orange to have been entirely innocent of any knowledge of the over-certification. The papers involved did not require his signature and could have been put through without his knowledge. His attorney, Thomas A. Davis, promised to give out a statement this afternoon.

Byrne, who has been held in $25,000 bail, says he issued the certificates at Hatch's solicitation.

Examiners who have been investigating the Trust Company's books since Monday, when Commissioner of Banking and Insurance, George M. Le Monte took charge, expect to finish their work this week. In the mean time 2,800 depositors are on the anxious seat. It is said that so far nothing wrong with the affairs of the company has been discovered.

Byrne's story of Hatch's visit to him and the plea that the transaction would save the bank was detailed. Hatch said he was short of funds because he was carrying large amounts of former United States Senator Smith's paper.

Friends of Hatch, regardless of the criminal prosecution which has been instituted, declare that he will make every effort to guard the trust company against financial loss. Even if he should fail to do so, it was added, the depositors need suffer a loss of no greater than 15 per cent. on their deposits, although the stockholders in

the company had been

charged with conspiring with

Thomas M. Byrne, Secretary-Treasurer of the Mutual Trust Company, in the over-certifying of the $34,000 deposit.

No one is allowed to see Hatch. The doctor appointed by the Banking Department to examine him reported that the man was too ill to be placed on trial for at least ten days. Hatch has assumed the blame for Byrne's part in the transaction.

Charles R. Wilmet, President of the Mutual Trust Company, is generally believed in Orange to have been entirely innocent of any knowledge of the over-certification. The papers involved did not require his signature and could have been put through without his knowledge. His attorney, Thomas A. Davis, promised to give out a statement this afternoon.

Byrne, who has been held in $25,000 bail, says he issued the certificates at Hatch's solicitation.

Examiners who have been investigating the Trust Company's books since Monday, when Commissioner of Banking and Insurance, George M. Le Monte took charge, expect to finish their work this week. In the mean time 2,800 depositors are on the anxious seat. It is said that so far nothing wrong with the affairs of the company has been discovered.

Byrne's story of Hatch's visit to him and the plea that the transaction would save the bank was detailed. Hatch said he was short of funds because he was carrying large amounts of former United States Senator Smith's paper.

Friends of Hatch, regardless of the criminal prosecution which has been instituted, declare that he will make every effort to guard the trust company against financial loss. Even if he should fail to do so, it was added, the depositors need suffer a loss of no greater than 15 per cent. on their deposits, although the stockholders in

the company had been

charged with conspiring with

Thomas M. Byrne, Secretary-Treasurer of the Mutual Trust Company, in the over-certifying of the $34,000 deposit.

No one is allowed to see Hatch. The doctor appointed by the Banking Department to examine him reported that the man was too ill to be placed on trial for at least ten days. Hatch has assumed the blame for Byrne's part in the transaction.

Charles R. Wilmet, President of the Mutual Trust Company, is generally believed in Orange to have been entirely innocent of any knowledge of the over-certification. The papers involved did not require his signature and could have been put through without his knowledge. His attorney, Thomas A. Davis, promised to give out a statement this afternoon.